The Royal bakery which is now located in its new quarters, 617-619 Quincy street, bakes more bread and pastry in one day than any other baking plant in Kansas, having a capacity of 12,000 loaves per day. During the past year, or since the bakery has been owned by M. Alexander, the business has been more than doubled, and the old quarters at 833 Kansas avenue, became too small. In the new location two store rooms are used, the ovens being built outside of the building in the rear, and the entire floor space is occupied with machinery. Eighteen men are employed and five wagons supply the local grocers, and Royal bakery products are handled by about 85 per cent of the grocery dealers. In addition to their large local business this concern ships bakery goods in all directions from Topeka within a radius of 250 miles. The bakery is always open to visitors, and a visit to their plant will prove instructive to any one.

Of the thousands of Topekan who eat the meat products of the Charles Wolff Packing company daily, how many really know the magnitude of this flourishing concern. The business was established by Mr. Charles Wolff in 1886 and has been making rapid progress ever since. They now kill over 125,000 hogs, cattle and sheep each year for which they pay the farmers of this vicinity over 2 1/2 million dollars. Two hundred men are constantly employed and about $140,000 is paid each year in wages. This plant is the principal market for Kansas, Colorado and southwestern territory, and in addition do an extensive export business. A claim made, and which costs the company several thousand dollars a year to back up, is that theirs is the cleanest packing house in America, and a visit to this model plant will convince you of the truth of the assertion.
